

NFT Marketplace for Real World Artists

The current crypto NFT market is a great way to sell and resell digital artwork online. But the real world artists who create great contemporary art still lack the opportunity to feature and monetize their artwork on any NFT platform. Our project RealWorldArt.org intends to fill this gap by bringing quality physical artwork from around the world into our online marketplace. Our goal is to support modern artists with their creative work providing additional revenue opportunities and promoting contemporary art over the Internet. We built our NFT marketplace on Solana blockchain.

Artists

On RealWorldArts.org artists have the following options:

- ★ Upload digitized physical artwork to our platform
- ★ List artwork for sale either with a fixed price or by an auction model
- ★ Sell limited or unlimited digital copies of their artwork and earn Solana crypto tokens
- ★ First 100 artists will get full technical support and be listed on our platform for free

Agents

Any contemporary art lover and tech savvy person can become an agent on our platform. The agents are middlemen between the artists and the platform. They help artists to bring their artwork online and earn revenue from the sales.

Traders and collectors

Anyone can purchase artwork on RealWorlArts.org. It can be resold for profit as well.

What is NFT?

NFT means Non-Fungible Token in crypto space. For the fine arts it can be any unique artwork submitted to the blockchain. The NFT can be sold (one or more copies) and resold later. It can be considered as a digitized copy of a physical object.

Who are we?

We are a united team of experienced developers in Internet and Blockchain technologies and arts experts from different countries. We are eager to help non-tech people to bring their creativity to the Internet space.
